

The TRUTH of IT

The inter dimensional body

As we expand into life we experience more of who we are. Sometimes this is perplexing. Only because we have an image of who we think we are! A truth we have come to believe is the absolute truth.

With this shift in energy, intelligence and awareness – whatever you wish to call it we are being called to discover what TRUTH really means for ourselves.

As the information of the many dimensions inverts itself through us we are becoming aware of what has been hidden. The dust is being unlocked, the air thicker, the depth of the deceit and denial we have existed within apparent.

This looks like darkness, yet it has always been present it has just been underground. And is it really dark? The irony is the majority of the planet is dark – galaxy, universe, dark matter and dark energy - so why would we as human beings reflect anything other than what nature created. The misconception is that we have become dark in our deceit and denial. Playing out the lowest version of our selves seeking to be light. The truth is the dark energy/ dark matter of life, the night sky is where the moon sits and its reflection is pure light. Space is actually where light exists naturally as a pure source of energy.

The courage of individuals now calls forth a delving into self - allowing this intelligence to invert, reverse itself through the mind and into the body so we feel and sense the truth of what has been hidden. As this occurs we may become aware of thoughts, events, pictures and sounds of the past that we had forgotten or never even known about.

The purpose of this discovery is to become self - honest, self - responsible and self - directing individuals. To cease to reject the essence of who we have always been which is multi dimensional and aligned fully to this earth as ONE.

As the world opens up no longer hiding the darkness of what we have created we become aware of how we have helped co create the reality we exist within.

This can be seen as confronting and/or gloomy or it can be embraced in wonder and awe.

When we view this time and our personal leadership responsibility as amazing we get to see self and each other like a child with absolute glee for life.

That is why it is happening, because we are here to live as LIFE. Rather than walking dead, living as death in hope we are here to really get the full experience of LIFE as LIFE.

" What connects us all is not energy or spirit or god, life connects us all, life is equal within all." Jen Hamilton

For this to occur we dive back into self, applying the Law of Reversal to delve back into what may seem dark yet is actually where our oneness and wholeness resides.

The journey back through self allowing REAL intelligence™ to provide you with dreams, pop ins, daily awareness and real life experiences will all provide you with the intelligence of fullness and freedom.

Having the eyes of a child and the ability to see this and embrace this with courage and wisdom will create unification within self. As this starts to occur you enter then a new world within self and a new world will arise outside of self.

The truth then becomes what you live by. Not someone else's truth, guidance or wisdom but the truth that exists inside of you. This truth, this permeating intelligence is one radio station, it plays all the time we can connect in at anytime and listen. What will limit the reception of this is our denial, deceit, darkness and our partial truth. That is not even conscious most likely it is unconscious so there is no one to blame. It has been an underground radio station for a very long time only now it has hit the big league with thousands of listeners. When we tune into this we are accessing REAL intelligence™, and this intelligence runs through the physical body. This is not the LIGHT BODY concept. This is what we call the development of the INTER DIMENSIONAL BODY.

The difference is this - the light body accessed light yet floated and was not grounded to this earth. Its purpose was to access consciousness and awareness bringing light, energy and vibration to the earth. This served a valuable role. This body is easily thrown off guard, the body is always in energy fluctuations, very responsive to darkness often judging this as bad, climate changes affect the body as do people and food. The light body wants love, seeks love and at the same time is living in a partial existence of truth. This body lives in polarity seeking light and love the experience is one of duality. Therefore the body is not whole and the experience of life has become accepting of human darkness.

The inter- dimensional body is grounded to the earth. It is constant and stable. It is filled with space, it reflects the universe and galaxy and the majority of this body is dark like space inside of the body flickers of light within. It is both light and dark and reflects externally vitality and life. It is in unification with mother/father/child within. It seeks to be nothing. The body is a reflection of all - the physical world, space and earth as one. The purpose of aligning to your inter - dimensional body is to integrate both heaven and earth as one through our material physical self. This then becomes a grounded vehicle of creation. This body is not reactive to emotion of other, foods and energy fluctuation. The body is in equality and oneness with self, it is a non - dual body and fully immersed in this world. There is no preference for darkness or light, it just is.

" Life will give us access to what life really is, when we are aligned to real self and REAL intelligence™" Jen Hamilton

Most people who resonate as inter dimensional have always at some level shunned spirituality. There is an innate truth within and a desire to be in the material world amongst money and success. There is a fast nature, liking quick and easy solutions because it is known it can be that fast and simple. The light consciousness theories and guidance may have been limiting in some ways and only affirmed more growth, lack and many more dark nights of the soul.

What we know now is there is existence beyond all of this - true freedom and harmony within the body/mind and as a result alignment and deep trust in our REAL intelligence™.

The light body and inter dimensional body/people will co exist together on the planet for some time. Most children born in past 7 years are accessing inter dimensional energy and therefore their bodies reflect this. The energy sourced here is called Tachyon energy as opposed to light fractions in the light body. This split in human structure and being has meant there are two worlds running side by side with different functions and purposes. Our time now is to join with those of same, rather than unite in polarity. The inter-dimensional has a specific role as do light people. As we move into this way of living and being developing our new capacities this will open up new leadership, communication, healing and transformation for the human being.

The time ahead is to not provide an answer, or even a truth, a guru with 'the' way - our personal leadership is all about becoming who we truly are. Allowing one another to reside as our innate self. Yet cooperation and collaboration can then form with natural synergy. Less time spent in the relationship dynamics of 'processing and analysis' more time spent in building, inventing, creating and expressing the purpose for which we truly were born.

As we align to our REAL intelligence™ and trust this we will be guided. We will move fast, it can be easy and it need not be fraught with angst and learning. The release of the past thoughts and beliefs is what creates struggle or what we have come to associate with as 'the dark night of the soul'. The place of partial truth is what creates confusion. Once we fall back into self and then allow the REAL fall out of our life to occur it will glide. When we sit back into the truth of whatever is true for self we are at last free. Without denial therefore there is no need to practice concepts like non – attachment. Attachment does not exist here. Alignment and trust exists here along with discovery, awe and wonder!
